

Prima Solutions provides support offerings around the ACORD Information Model

Chicago, USA – May 17th, 2009 – Prima Solutions announced today the availability of several support offerings around the ACORD Information Model to help Insurance organization build Insurance applications using the ACORD Information Model. Prima Solutions has been working with ACORD for the past year around the ACORD Framework and especially the Information Model initiative. Prima Solutions involvement started with the donation of its reference model to ACORD in order to jumpstart the Information Model standard. With 25 customers and more than 50 implementations worldwide using its Reference Model, Prima Solutions has developed a strong expertise and unique experience around the Information Model.

Because of its unique positioning, Prima Solutions developed a support offering that bundles support and tailored software for any insurance organization in need to leverage the ACORD Information Model.

The offering is built around four areas:

- Training: training programs that will help Insurance carriers to understand in depth the Information Model and how to use it within their organization
- Support: Prima Solutions offers Support for help, how-to (Level 1), problem solving (Level 2) and design recommendations (Level 3)
- Application Development Kit: Prima Solutions developed a Productivity suite and a Model Driven Architecture suite so Insurance organizations can build insurance applications from the information Model tailored to their needs
- Consulting services: Prima Solutions provides IM Expert consultants to support Insurance organization with their complex projects around the Information Model such as designing applications or building data stores like datawarehouses.

“Prima Solutions is thrilled by the opportunity to help Insurance organizations leveraging the upcoming ACORD information Model; Prima Solutions is in the unique situation to become the leading provider of Insurance applications built around the Information Model” said Alex Solomides, VP North American Operations, Prima Solutions.
